“ RIP Dave I miss you a whole lots ,I know you were a honest worker and a clown but when it came to friendship you were the best and always over the many years never forgot about me and I'm sure You omy angel in the sky thanks for the many years of friendship hope some day. We meet again and laughter about our lives and family and friends One moment sticks out is when you and Diane moved in with Thomas suck a little boy then your insight to call me and connect your phones and see your new friends was inspiring as you wanted my approval but you didn't need it your friendship with her as roommates was great and like I told you keep it honest and clean respectable and you were . thanks for the many years again since the early years of you leaving high school and driving that Dodge slant 6 , haha !Alot noise but you stuck it out and improved, Buddie I miss you and sometimes I need your insight even I was older than you thanks for your respect and friendship! I'm not gay but I love you man...and remembering you is hard cause we had so many crazy days....RIP

“ "Punk Boy" we miss you more than words can say. There are so many times I see something cool and want to call and harass you, but no sooner than the thought hits my head, my heart breaks.. I miss those talks, and the banter back and forth. Dakota misses you too! Christine says that she misses your smile, your bear hugs and your witty charm.. I just miss my friend! Rest in Peace.. I know that you and my dad are riding around in Heaven in a Mopar!

“ Becky, it's your birthday and you're not here for me to make your favorite coffee cake, to sing to, to laugh with, to tease, to call you on the hour every hour asking you " do you know what day is today? It's your birthday!" The house is empty without you life is empty. You were supposed to come home for lunch , I should have been with you, I love and miss you Dave very very very much “ Dave was once our neighbor, but always our friend.

Now dearly missed, but fondly remembered by the Haley Family.

With our prayers,
Larry, Barbara,
Christopher, Jennifer

“ I remember looking forward to seeing you at every family gathering- your bear hugs and witty comments have always been my favorite. I remember all the times you picked me up over your head and sat me down on your knee and would ask me questions in a way that always struck me. When you would ask me how I was doing, I knew you were not trying to make small talk, you really cared and genuinely wanted to know. You have always been a part of my life, and been there for me and for our family in ways you didn't even know. It still doesn't feel real that you aren't here anymore; I miss you more than you could ever know. RIP Uncle Dave, I love you.

“ You left us far too soon. When we first met all those years ago, I was a scared, lonely little boy with no friends in a new school. From the very beginning, you were so warm, kind, and friendly to me -- maybe because you were just as scared as I was. That warmth you showed from the beginning never faded even after 37 years of friendship.

I always admired your ability to easily talk to anyone about anything. It's no wonder you had so many friends. Everyone immediately saw in you a wonderful human being that loved life and genuinely cared about others.

Knowing you was an honor and a privilege. Goodbye my dear friend. I will never forget you and will miss you terribly.

“ Thanks Dave for being such a good friend over the years. You will be missed a great deal.

It seems like only yesterday that we met at the Mopar Spring Fling. I can still recall the Super Bee project you were trying to buy at the time and all the spare parts I was trying to convince you to sell me after you got it. I never would have thought at the time that I was meeting a guy who would become such a solid friend for the next 14-15 years. It didn't take much time though for me to realize though that you were about as honest and honorable as they come. As we became friends, it was also obvious that you would do most anything to help a friend out.

You were one of a kind Dave and as I said, you will be missed by many.
