

Eva M. Ortega

May 25, 1966 - March 14, 2012

Eva Ortega was born May 25, 1966 and passed away on March 14, 2012 at the young age of 45 years old, with her family at her side.

She grew up in the San Fernando Valley and worked as a managing Director at Fidelity Investments. Throughout the years, Eva traveled to Europe, Mexico, Central and South America, Asia, the Pacific Islands as well as many states in the U.S. She loved to travel with family and friends and often made many new friends along the way.

Eva had a sparkling personality, and passion for life! She particularly enjoyed time spent with her loved ones. She battled cancer for seven years and continually participated in the San Fernando Relay for Life with her team Eva's Divas. She possessed great courage and perseverance in her fight against cancer. She inspired many people throughout her journey.

The definition of Eva's name is 'Life' or 'Living' and that she did! She had an infinite will to live life to its fullest.

On Saturday March 24, 2012 A Beautiful Celebration of Life Ceremony was held on the Beach of Paradise Cove in Malibu California, per Eva's request all of her guest in attendance wore white.

“ RIP Dear Eva.

Will never forget our chats and the shared Chocolate cakes at sunset time, while you were enjoying Bali.

All of us here at "Le 48, Zen & Happy Rezort - Candidasa" keep the souvenir of your kindness, smile and determination.

Not only a great woman, but an example, a model of life !

We all strongly pray for you.

LOVE

Pedro
