“ I was torn to pieces when I heard the sirens that evening we departed at the stop sign when we took a ride around the block. My intuition was confirmed when I found out on December 22, 2014, that the sirens I heard minutes upon our departure December 21, 2014 were in fact heading to the accident that you were involved in. I was hurt, torn to pieces, wishing we had headed back to our homes together safely, but obviously god wanted you to be with him. I know that you were very happy that Sunday evening. All I could think about were all the great stories you shared with me and Michelle and the neighbors, boasting about how that Saturday night was the best night of your life and to know I was granted the honor to share with you your last cigarette, and the last time we rode around the block on that bike with me I feel honored, but not knowing it was gonna be your last, I am torn inside. It tears me apart each day and I have had many sleepless nights denying the fact you aren't here with us. We had barely become acquainted when my dog ran away barely four weeks before this terrible incident and within the four weeks I gotten to know that you were an amazing person, always outside when we would walk the dog and always willing to loan a hand with fixing our Honda. Thanks you once more for helping me with the starter. Til this day, each time we pass by your house I continue to glance over to see if you are there, by habit. And I have come to the conclusion that I can not change gods plan for you to return to his paradise and you know, you will always be remembered as that young man down the street who we would pass by and you'd wave hello and smile. Thank you for being YOU. WE MISS YOU. God bless and amen. R. I. P.

“ i don't even know where to start. I just miss you very much. I can't even write this without crying. You weren't just my cousin you were basically my brother we grew up together. We would always go on vacation together. I remember all the great times we had together and I'll never forget them. Yes we always had our ups and downs but I don't want to remember that. I just want to remember our great memories. I'm so glad we made up. I don't know what I would do if we didn't. I love you so much Gareth. I wish this was all a night mare. I miss you like crazy. I think about you everyday. Your always on my mind. I'm glad julian got to meet you. You were one great Tio. He loves you just as much as I do. I'll always tell him about you and remind him about all the good things we did together. When I see melody I see you. She's your twin. Melody and Victoria are lucky to have you as their father. I'll always tell them they have such a great daddy. Well I love you Gareth. Until we meet again. I know grandma grandpa chepe and you are looking over us. Say hi to them for me. And give them a big hug. I miss all of you and love you guys.

“ Although I never met Gareth he had to be a wonderful young man because his father, Miguel, is a wonderful man. Reading the obituary it occurred to me that Gareth is the same age, almost to the day, as my precious son. I know this is a very difficult time for the Carrillo family as it would be for me. It is so hard to lose a child. Miguel my prayer for you is to fill your heart with happy memories because memories will help you find your smile. Know that your family in Alabama is praying for you during this chapter in your life. We love you.
