“ My heart has been heavy since I heard the news of you receiving your wings. You will be missed! I remember just this last semester, you pulling up every Tuesday and Thursday with your smooth Denzel Washington voice, "Hey Ms.T!" You would always make me stop in my track, "Hey Gary!" You would always speak to me in such a soothing voice, when I was screaming and panicking on the students, you would listen to me talk and just respond, "Yeah!" (In your D.W. voice). You will be missed. I will miss your caring spirit that you had for me and your classmates. I will remember the conversations you shared with me, the joys of marriage, the family events, the anticipation of your first baby boy. Our last conversation was nothing but joyful happy moments. I will miss you. When I looked at my roster for Fall 2022 tonight, I cried, knowing that your booth would be empty. However; it will be full of memories and blocked off in remembrance of you.

I love you, and pray that you will forever be with us in spirit.

Love,

Ms. T

“ Gary was my absolute best friend, coworker for a few years where we could just be us, be free, laugh, play golf, make jokes and just be able to be each others therapist. I talked to him every single day, 24/7. Such a humble, caring, respectful brother. He had my back if I ever needed anything. He drove out to Santa Monica last week to hangout just be free, ride scooters all day around town. That was my last moments with Gary and I will forever cherish his company. Love you brother watch over all of us. I miss the hell out of my “daddy” RIP
